HELBURN SAYS ROAD PROGRAM TO BE ACTIVE

Local Man Named Commissioner, Believes $75,000,000 Bond Issue Will Pass—Much Improvement Promised

CONTRACTS ON STATE ROADS DECLARED LEGAL

Major E. S. Helburn, returning from Frankfort this morning, confirmed the report that he had been chosen by the governor as one of the members of the new state highway commission. The commission, he said, would be recommended to the Senate for confirmation Monday.

Major Helburn said he had not gone over the grounds of his new position enough to know what work might be taken up first or what could be emphasized. However, he said the road program in Kentucky for the present administration would undoubtedly be an active one. Indications are, he said, that the $75,000,000 bond issue would pass and if it does there will be ample revenue for roads. There is little doubt about the measure passing the General Assembly and Major Helburn of Kentucky, defeating it as they are says he has no fears of the people too well awake to the need of the state for educational, institutional and road improvements.

If the bond issue should not carry, though, he said there would be a good bit of money for roads, though the fact that the money will not all be available all at once, as in the event of the bond issue, will make it impossible to satisfy every one.

Major Helburn also explained the decision of the attorney general and Judge Humphrey in declaring the road contracts which had been held up to be legal. On investigation they found that the highway commission had not exceeded their rights in letting these roads so work will be started on them in the spring. The contracts pertinent to applicable here were the stretches in Knox, Laurel and Rockcastle counties.

The sewer bills framed by Judge T. J. Anderson and introduced in the Senate by Senator Mars and in the House by Judge Ellsworth have been passed favorably in both places, Major Helburn said, adding that he believed they would be about the first bills to pass the General Assembly.

The bill for the road from Blackhawk to Pride has also been introduced, he said, and there seems to be little doubt about its going through.

Mr. Hill says that his plant is the best of its kind in Southeastern Kentucky and that every machine is the most modern type. He has spent several weeks visiting dry cleaning establishments in the large cities and has all like machinery and methods.

BUREAU OF CHILD HEALTH EFFICIENT

Establishes Centers in Many Counties Where Instruction Needed in Care of Children

One out of every three men who came before the examining boards were refused admission to army service because of physical defects. In childhood many of these defects could easily have been prevented or corrected but lack of care resulted in a large number of American boys unfit for war service. In Kentucky 67 out of every 100 babies born die during the first year of life. The Bureau of Child Health is endeavoring to lower this high death rate and to assist mothers in rearing children who will be physically fit and able to take their places as useful and efficient citizens.

With this object in view Child Health Centers have been permanently established in the following counties: Christian, Webster, Daviess, Grayson, Hart, Taylor, Nelson, Shelby, Henry, Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln, Pulaski, Whitley, Knox, Bell, Harlan, Letcher, Pike, Montgomery, Madison, Clark, Woodford, Scott, Kenton, Mason, Fayette, Jefferson, Rockcastle, Muhlenburg, and Fulton.

Child Health Centers give to mothers the opportunity of a physical examination of children under 6 years. The physician in charge instructs the mothers regarding the health habits of children and the best methods of keeping them well. Children are weighed monthly and mothers are told whether they are growing and gaining as they should. The community nurse advises mothers about the feeding of babies and the preparation of the first foods. If necessary, follow up visits are made to the homes and further instructions are given mothers. After the first visit mothers are anxious to return for the monthly weighing of their children for they soon realize that a steady, progressive gain in weight is the best index they have to good health in a child. Groups of women in each county interest themselves in promoting the establishment of Child Health Centers and give valuable assistance by acting as clerical workers.

What is your county doing toward lowering the death rate and helping the mothers rear healthier children?

DISCLOSURES CONTINUE IN OIL EMBROGLIO

Colonel Zevely, Sinclair's Attorney, On Stand in Teapot Dome Case—Full Silent About Doheny Allegations

WILL MAKE NO STATEMENT BUT TO SENATE COMMITTEE

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congress stood almost mute today before the breath taking series of sensation that have welled from the silent subterranean oil reserves of Wyoming and California in the Senate Lands Committee now the legislative center of the universe. The trial of the oil inquiry swung away from the Doheny disclosures and back again to the Sinclair Teapot Dome embroglio with Colonel Zevely, Harry Sinclair's attorney on the stand. Zevely loaned the first half of his name months ago to a certain Sinclair race horse.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Albert Fall, former Secretary of the Interior when the Teapot Dome Naval Oil reserve lease was made, today refused to make a statement in connection with the allegation of Edward L. Doheny, California oil magnate, that Doheny loaned Fall $100,000 several months prior to the signing of a valuable lease with the Doheny interests. Fall said he would make no statement until he appears before the senate committee investigation of leases next Monday.

BLUE GOOSE PLUNGES DOWN 40-FOOT BANK—NO INJURIES

The Barbourville Blue Goose bus, driven by Ben Scott, plunged down a 40foot bank near Flat Lick yesterday without causing any injuries to the ten passengers or damaging the car seriously. The accident was caused by the extraordinary slickness of the road.

It did not turn over in the plunge nor greatly disturb the passengers. A rear spring of the big car was broken and a front wheel thrown out of line, this being the extent of its damages. The car was taken through a field to regain the road.

All four of the busses were in operation yesterday, despite the unusual conditions of the road. It was difficult at times, however, to hold them in the road and extremely careful driving prevented accidents.

JONESVILLE MAN CELEBRATES HIS 100TH BIRTHDAY

JONESVILLE, Va., Jan. 25.—James Pennington, better known as "Uncle Jimmy", who is probably Lee County's oldest citizen, celebrated his one hundredth birthday January 17, and his often expressed wish of living to be 100 years old has at last been realized.

For several months he has been confined to his bed, but up to that time he had led a very active life. He voted in the election of November, 1922, although he had to be assisted to the polls. At the elections of last November his health was too poor to allow his going to the polls, however.

"Uncle Jimmy" has a host of friends all over this section who wish for him many happy returns of the day.

MILLIGAN DEFEATS L. M. U. LAST NIGHT

Outclasses Neighbor School at Basketball in M. H. S. Gym—Score 41 to 13.

Milligan college defeated Lincoln Memorial University at basketball on the local gymnasium court last night by a score of 41 to 13. L. M. U. was outclassed from the very beginning and the first half ended 19 to 2.

Milligan had an excellent system of short passing and their defense was very good. Sawyers, their guard, played an exceptionally good game. Turner, L. M. U. guard, played the best game for that team. Both teams were rather weak on the long shots.

The Milligan visitors spoke highly of the gymnasium in the local high school and of their treatment here. Milligan, a Christian Church school in Johnson City, is particularly noted for its athletics and its fine gymnasium.

Coach J. T. Kilpatrick refereed the game last night. The crowd was comparatively small as the game had not been advertised enough for people to know about it.

MAJOR HEFBURN AS HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

Whatever political managing it may have taken to obtain the appointment of Major J S Hefburn on the State Highway commission, Bell county citizens democrats and republicans alike, are infinitely grateful for the appointment and feel that in it Southeastern Kentucky's road improvement program is assured

This section had not known what good roads were previous to three or four years ago With the road from Barbourville to Cumberland Gap completed and several small stretches of state road scattered elsewhere we obtained a taste of the value of good roads, of what it meant to be able to get rapidly from one place to another in the section and state This taste has been an inestimable boon to the business and general welfare of the entire section

When the administration changed and it was announced that a new highway commission with an eastern Kentucky representative from an entirely different section was been planned we awoke to what this really meant to us Political forces reconnoitered, conferences resulted and Major Hefburn of Middlesboro was named on the commission

Major Hefburn has long been one of our ablest and most far seeing citizens Where other business men take account of the immediate present and then immediate surroundings, he has built for Southeastern Kentucky particularly and for the state in general, and he has planned for years to come There is probably no other man who knows better the needs of this section than Major Hefburn and there is no other to whom the section is more willing to entrust its material welfare

A MORROW ACHIEVEMENT

The State Board of Charities and Corrections, which the Efficiency Commission finds excellent was created by Edwin P Morrow in fulfillment of a campaign pledge so excellent that enemies, in both political parties said it would not be redeemed That pledge was made when A J Hert was a power in the Republican party in Kentucky, recommending to the party the policy expressed in the slogan De serve to win

If Mr Hert suggested to Mr Morrow the plan of submitting to the voters in advance of the election the names of persons he will put in charge of the State institution the fact is not discreditable to the candidate who was wise enough to adopt the plan and keep the promise The work which the Efficiency Commission praises is that of the members of the Board, everywhere recognized as having been excellent and as meriting the endorsement of a body which has shown its sincerity and its discretion in dealing with the States problems But the creation of the Board was an achievement of Governor Morrow whose administration would have been highly constructive to the State, and to his party, had he done as well in other matters as he did in making a good campaign promise and keeping it No amount of good work without financial means, can improve the State institutions as they should be improved The money will have to be provided That should be kept in mind Praise of the Board should not obscure the point, in any Kentuckian's mind But it may be said that the creation of the Board was a definite, and conspicuous, achievement of the last administration. It would be pleasing to see the present administration, now beginning its work, in a position to point to numerous examples of constructive work which could be compared, to its advantage, with the keeping of Mr Morrow's pledge—Louisville Times

PARTY GOVERNMENT AND PROGRESS

(By John T Adams, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, in the National Republican)

The United States is the only nation participating in the World war that has made substantial progress toward restoration of normal conditions since the armistice

Although five years have elapsed since peace was declared, Europe still is in chaotic condition economically and politically Conditions in the United States form a happy and striking contrast to those in European countries There is a fundamental reason for this difference

European nations are cursed politically with the bloc system Their legislative bodies are composed of groups and factions, no one of which is able of its own strength to enact a legislative program Their parliamentary bodies have been deadlocked since the war

Practically every cabinet in Europe since the war has been what is known as a coalition cabinet—a cabinet made up of men from different blocs who agree to a temporary patching up of their differences These cabinets have been short lived

It is different in the United States We have a form of government in which the majority and minority parties The majority party is commissioned by the people to put in to effect a definite program It is held responsible for carrying out this mandate of the people The great progress the United States has made during the last three years is largely due to the existence and operation of this form of responsible party government

Had the country like European nations been divided into a number of small parties or blocs no one of which could assume control of the government and put into effect a definite program, the United States would have made no more progress during the last five years than European nations have made

Party government is the only system of responsible government we have Government by blocs and factions is generally dictated by group selfishness rather than by the fundamentals of political economy and a desire to render the greatest possible service to all the people Republican men and women are performing a great service to their country at this time by setting down their faces against this form of disorganization

PIE

The apple of every American eye
Is pie
For it dries the spirits and keeps 'em high,
Take pie
From Miami, Fla, to Mackinac Mich,
Good pie is the berries, a peach of a dish,
A food to meet each epicurean's wish
Is pie

The old people sigh and the little ones cry
For pie
The kind that you make—not the kind that you buy,
Some pie
Is punk in its filling and punk in its crust,
And custard by people who never have cussed,
But good home made pie you can eat till you bust,
That's pie!

A lemon pie's never a lemon to me,
Oh my!
I scream with delight when a cream pie I see,
That's pie.
I won't give the raz to a raspberry tart,
I'm not at all chary of cherry, my heart
At cocoanut pie gives a leap and a start
What man has the consummate cruft to deny
The lure of a rightly made,
Lightly made pie

Love Defended

Love, the noblest of things made,
Let all stars attend you:
Love, so trampled and betrayed,
Let my song defend you!

Love that makes the dust aspire,
All the gods acclaim you:
Yet men foul your feet with mire
Ait their lips defame you.

In my hand a sword of song,
Terrible as lightning,
Quivers to avenge your wrong
When your face is whitening.

You were made for starry air,
Dauntless songs and soarings—
Made for rapture and despair,
Made for man's adorings.

W. I. JONES MAY GET INTO RACE

Friends Urging Him to Be First District Candidate for Congress

HARROGATE, Tenn., Jan 25.—From indications there may be another hat thrown into the ring from the First Congressional District. During the past month friends of Mr. W. I. Jones from three or more counties have been encouraging him to enter the race for congress. Every day some new encouragement comes to those who are most desirous of having Mr. Jones make the race.

So far Mr. Jones has made no announcement that he will run but today made this statement to some of his friends: "I am no politician and in fact have no desire to get mixed up in politics. I have heavy obligations that I am doing my best to meet and I was never so busy in my life However, I like the type of men and women who want me to get into the race. If I find that enough of the clean and high grade voters of this district want me to run I will give somebody a chase for the office."

Mr. Jones was born and reared in Claiborne county, his ancestors being among the first settlers of East Tennessee. He was educated at Lincoln Memorial University where he is now at the head of the extension department. During the World war Mr. Jones volunteered for service immediately upon the declaration of war and spent two years in France, a good part of which time was spent at the front where he served with a machine gun company of the First Division.

Due to the fact that Mr. Jones is well and favorably known throughout the First Congressional district his friends feel that he would be a strong candidate. It is expected that he will make an announcement one way or another within a few days.

HER IDEAL FULFILLED, CARRIE CHAPMAM CATT, "CITIZEN OF THE WORLD" PREPARES TO RETIRE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, apostle of world-wide woman's suffrage, announces she's ready to retire.

She has won her fight. Nearly a-score countries have accepted her creed. She has earned the title, "citizen of the world."

This former girl superintendent of schools and wife of a weekly newspaper editor in a little Iowa town has carried her gospel to practically every corner of the universe.

On three oceans and in North and South America, Europe, Asia even Africa she has preached the doctrine of equal rights for all women.

Thirty-six nations with full suffrage and three more with partial suffrage for her sisters remain as enduring monuments to Mrs. Catt's devotion to the cause she loves.

Of course a few barriers remain. But these merely are legal technalities in man-made constitutions.

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

Mrs. Catt points out. They will be held 20 years.

obliterated in a few years' she believes.

Mrs. Catt actually left the front lines two years ago, when she resigned the presidency of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance, which she

But she didn't leave the public eye. Since her return from an European trip she has been "stumping" for peace pledges with men and women to outlaw all war forever.

She believes she has helped sway public sentiment in that direction, too.

"I have made my last peace talk," she declares.

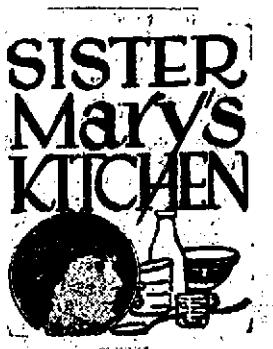
SISTER Mary's KITCHEN



SISTER MARY TELLS HOW TO PUT VARIETY INTO MORNING MEAL

Many persons say they have no appetite for breakfast and want only a cup of coffee.

But school children and men and women who must work need wholesome food to break their fast and start the day.

If the luncheon must consist mainly of sandwiches the breakfast should provide some protein as well as starch and fat.

A large dish of well-cooked cereal with plenty of rich cream is almost [illegible] served with crisp toast and either fresh or dried fruit such a breakfast is well balanced and satisfying enough for the average needs.

But many find rich cream on hot cereal difficult to digest and the necessary amount of cereal to carry a busy person through the day so large that it becomes impossible.

For these a breakfast of bacon and eggs with bran or corn meal muffins should be planned. Fresh or stewed fruit can be chosen.

One Course

Breakfast should be a pleasant, attractive meal, but the woman who does her work should revise breakfasts requiring as few dishes for washing as possible. To this end one-course breakfasts will help.

If the cereal can be combined with the fruit, well and good. But if not serve only the fruit and let the main part of the breakfast be hearty enough to satisfy without a cereal.

Griddle cakes made with eggs, French toast, muffins made with eggs are protein foods to some extent, but do not supply sufficient calories to make a hearty breakfast. Eggs poached, boiled in an omelet, shirred, lightly scrambled, served with toast, furnish the simplest and quickest protein.

When cereal is served do not serve hot cereal muffins; use crisp buttered toast.

Apples

Even if you are dependent on apples as your chief breakfast fruit there are many different ways of serving them. A cold, juicy apple makes a most acceptable appetizer. If the men won't take time to eat it, it's worth any woman's time to pare and quarter, remove the core and arrange the quarters neatly on a plate just before breakfast. No man can resist an apple that's all ready for him to eat.

Orange juice and grapefruit juice are always good. A little sugar should be added to grapefruit juice.

Stewed dried fruits are excellent winter breakfast fruits, furnishing sugar as well as mineral salts.

FIRE MAKES ELCHO AN ARTISTIC MAIN STREET

ELCHO'S BIGGEST BUSINESS DISTRICT, ALL IN ONE BUILDING, AND INSERT CHARLES W FISH WHO PLANNED THE IMPROVEMENT

ELCHO, Wis Jan 24 Charles W Fish has at last fulfilled his ambition to beautify Elcho but it took a disastrous fire to help him make Elcho the most picturesque community in Wisconsin

Where formerly were unbeautiful shacks now stand all the buildings designed by a man who had been waiting for years to build a model community

Elcho is a lumbering town The property was platted early in the eighties, when utility rather than beauty was the rule of the pioneers who built up the village

Fish wealthy lumberman, who came here 25 years ago, had his imagination fired by pictures of English communities When he rebuilt Elcho he carried out the English architectural idea

The entire business of the town is now transacted in one building At one end is a department store Then there is a bank, drug store a hotel a barber shop, a dentists office the Fish Lumber Company offices and the new depot

The old bowling house of the village was moved to a back street to make room for the new club house which is one of the three most attractive of its kind in the state The town has 150 attractive homes and now represents the complete realization of Fish's dream
